

Pertinent Paragraphs

Discussions on Neon Signs in Lemon Grove centered on the new signs erected during the past few weeks. Traffic through Lemon Grove (above speed limits) is terrific. Those who are forced to work or live down near the waterfront wholesale and manufacturing district or in the hot La Mesa-ElCajon hinterland are seeking escape into our cool breezy foothills. They are creating a traffic problem. Why not work and dine where the climate is right.

Neon signs in Lemon Grove are an attempt to stop these traffic violators who are acting as if they were travelling on a freeway.

We want the speedsters to slow down, signal for a right turn on Broadway or Imperial, another easy turn around the parking grounds onto Main, then across and around the block and they will have found a lot of good stores with parking accommodation.

They will have come across a lot of other neon signs at the gas filling stations, drug stores, restaurants, etc. They will stop at the big sign "Grove Theatre." There they will find a big parking lot, a big lobby and rest rooms, comfortable seats and first class pictures. Refreshments are available in Lemon Grove at all hours. Chicken in the Rough, Delicatessen open till late, etc. Stop at Lemon Grove some evening and you will be back next day and see our real estate men, you will make your future home here.

Truth comes from a deep sincerity that must always characterize heroic hearts; it is the better side of man's nature developing itself.

Summer School At Grossmont Union High

Each year more students are recognizing the value of attending summer school. The belief held by some that the summer session is just a place where "Flunkies" make up lost credit is far from the actual situation.

It is true that the session does make it possible for those who have failed a course in the regular term to repeat the course or take another in its place and thereby stay with their class. Also those students who have lost credits through transferring from one school to another find this a good opportunity to regain work.

However a large majority attend just because they want to. In general the so called required subjects are taken so that the students may have a wider selection of electives during the regular term.

Students sometimes repeat a course in summer school in order to get a better foundation for other courses or raise their grades to recommending grades and improve their chances of qualifying for college entrance, or to meet entrance requirements for some special training such as nurses training when they had not planned this program far enough in advance.

This year a large number of students now completing the 8th grade have indicated their intention of attending the summer session. Courses chiefly in demand by this group are the Beginning Typing, General Mathematics and Remedial Reading.

The summer school faculty is as follows:

English and Remedial Reading—Leona Finalle
Typing—Vela Gibson and Willard Barkell
General Mathematics—Mildred Sawyer
Senior Arithmetic—Willard Barkell

Plane Geometry and Algebra—Charles Hogue
United States History—Raymond Kniss
American Government—John Cornelius and John Davis

Social Problems—Robert Cordry and John Davis
Woodshop—Emil Bauer
Auto Shop—Vernon Hill
Health Education—Winifred King

Drivers Education—Douglass Kerr and Samuel Van Note
Homemaking—Wilda Hay
Library—Lois Kelly

At present there has not been a sufficient demand for the music courses in Beginning Strings, Beginning Clarinet, Beginning Brass and Fundamentals of Music to make these courses available. However, should enough additional requests for these courses be

REAL-LIFE SITES GIVEN REEL LIFE IN 'SHOCKPROOF'

Although a considerable portion of "Shockproof," new romantic drama starring Cornel Wilde with Patricia Knight at the Grove, Theatre on Sunday and Monday, June 5, 6, was filmed in actual locations, still more real-life backgrounds had to be constructed by Columbia for one reason or another. Street scenes and alleyways in down town Los Angeles were used "as is," along with an office building and a candy factory which were "borrowed" for important sequences.

But the international border immigration station at Tia Juana, Mexico, was duplicated by the studio as was the Los Angeles Municipal Airport ticket office. It had originally been planned to film these, and several other locations, on the actual spot, but the heavy traffic of passengers, tourists and pedestrians made the plan impractical.

"Shockproof" is the high tension drama of a man who thought he was shockproof, only to discover that his wife's past is even worse than he had realized. Douglas Sirk directed the film, with a careful eye towards complete realism about plot situation and settings. In addition to Wilde and Miss

Knight, the cast of "Shockproof" includes John Baragrey, Esther Minciotti, Howard St. John, Russell Collins and Charles Bates. The film was written by Helen Deutsch and Samuel Fuller.

FILM MAN SHOWS INDIAN HOW TO APPLY WARPAINT

It took a Hollywood make-up artist to revive the ancient Indian art of applying war paint.

When Lee Greenway arrived in Banff, Canada, with the assignment of daubing warpaint on the Yiskabee Indian braves for scenes being filmed there in Cinecolor for "Canadian Pacific," the new Twentieth Century-Fox release opening Tuesday at the Grove Theatre, he found the Indians had all but forgotten that colorful art.

However, when they saw themselves made up, they became so interested in the procedure that they prevailed upon Greenway to teach their children the lost art of applying their tribal warpaint. In gratitude, the Yiskabees officially named Greenway "Chief Paleface-In-Color."

Randolph Scott is starred in the Nat Holt production whose cast includes Jane Wyatt, J. Carroll Naish, Victor Jory and Nancy Olson.
